THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five persons died in traffic accidents over the weekend in Arkansas, according to an Associated Press count.

The count went from 6 p.m.
Friday until midnight Sunday.

Three persons were killed
Sunday in a two-car collision on U.S. 71 about four miles west of Rogers. They were identified as Mrs. Dorothy M. Williams, 39, of Rogers, Mrs. Frances Ruth White, 20, of Great Ben, Kan., and Mrs. White's daughter, Littie, 6 months.

Police said the Whites were en route to Searcy to visit Mrs.
White's mother when their car collided with one driven by Mrs. Williams, who was alone in her car.

Linda Skidgell, 26, of Little Rock Air Force Base died in a Little Rock hospital after being thrown from a car that went out of control on a curve, plunged into a ditch and struck a light pole near a freeway access road at Jacksonville.

Rock was fatally injured Friday night when his motorcycle was struck by a car. A 16-year-cide in the crash.

S. Korean
Elections
Set June 8

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—
The South Korean government today ordered elections held June 8 for the 175 seats in the country's singlehouse legislature. Candidates must register by May 15, and more than 500 are expected to run.

President Chung Hee Park's Democratic Republican party now holds 112 seats while the New Democratic party controls
58. Since Park won re-election to the presidency by a landslide last week, his party expects to retain control of the legislature.

Group Plans for Poultry Festival

The upcoming Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival was the main item of business at the recent Board meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Benny Coleman, general chairman, and Mel Thrash, ticket sales chairman, stressed the importance of the poultry industry to our area and urged Board members to purchase tickets and encourage the sale of them to everyone in the area.

The following men were named as chairman of the different business groups in the area: Retail, Harrell Collier; Utilities, Garland Medders; Independent Grocers, Larry Baber; Supermarkets, Don Barranco; Oil Companies and Service Stations, A.
R. Trout; Manufacturing, Bob Moers; Courthouse, Jimmy Griffin; Automobile Dealers and Garages, Kinard Young; Professional Services, F. C. Crow; Restaurants and Drivels, Bob Westbrook; Building Supplies and Contractors, Jack Reynard; Motels, Jerry Johnson; Cleaners & Laundries, Wesley Huddleston.

Mr. Coleman announced that ticket chairmen had been appointed in the Nashville and Prescott areas and that they were doing an excellent job in these areas.
"Nashville business people have guaranteed the sale of at least 2,000 tickets and Prescott will also sell lots of tickets," said Mr. Coleman.

Other items of business at the meeting were, the adoption of a mid-month meeting of the Executive committee of the board, a report from Hulen White on the progress of the Committee of 100 and a discussion of Business-Education day by J. W. Rowe, a member of the B-E Day committee.

Another matter of much importance was the getting out of the vote within the county on May 16th to vote for the Bond Issue for construction of a new building for Hope Wire Products.
The secretary was instructed to get out a letter to all of the membership just prior to the election as a reminder to get out and vote and urge others to do likewise.

Chinese Attack Soviet Group

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia
(AP) — The Chinese Communist party attacked eight non-Soviet Communist leaders by name for the first time today, calling them "renegades of Marxism-Leninism, strikebreakers of the working class and enemies of revolutionary Communist parties," the Yugo-slav news agency Tanjug reported from Peking.

Attacked in an article in the Peking People's Daily, the party paper, were Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland, Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia, Todor Zhi-vkov of Bulgaria, Janos Kadar of Hungary, Waldeck Rochet of France, Luigi Longo of Italy, John Gollan of Britain and Dolores Ibarruri, the Spanish exile.
Soviet party leader Leonid I.
Brezhnev and Walter Ulbricht of East Germany also were in the group, but the Chinese press had attacked them before.

They were assailed in connection with the European Communist conference in Czechoslovakia April 24-26, which the Chinese article said was a "counter-revolutionary gathering attended by traitors to the working class."

Strife in China Is Building

By FRANCIS K. ICHIGAYA
TOKYO (AP) — Wall newspapers in Peking say growing strife has killed or injured hundreds of persons in Red China's western provinces, including 200 supporters of Mao Tse-tung drowned when anti-Maoists rammed their boat.

Machine-gun fire killed two Red Guard members, a man and a woman, and grenades injured hundreds of other persons Saturday in Chengtu, 950 miles southwest of Peking, said wall posters reported by Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital.

The reports said previous clashes in Chengtu last week killed 11 persons and injured between 1,000 and 2,400 others.
Japanese accounts said the fighting was between extremist and more conservative followers of Communist party Chairman Mao with each side accusing the other of helping President Lu Shao-chi, the chief target of Mao's cultural revolution purge.

The wall newspaper said
south China Red Guards claimed 4,000 Maoists were imprisoned in Chengtu and were fasting. Other reports said rioters poisoned the city's water supply.

The 200 pro-Maoists who drowned were riding a ferry across the Yangtze River at Chungking to attend a rally Saturday when a boat manned by anti-Maoists rammed them, wall posters said.

Foreign correspondents, who are restricted to Peking most of the time, were not able to confirm the wall posters.

Chengtu is the capital of Szechwan, China's most populous province and the home of Communist party General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping, an ally of Liu.

The Peking People's Daily
cautioned Maoists Sunday against fighting among themselves. It also said criticism — not armed struggle — should be used to topple Liu and his followers.

Red Guards have been reported in the past month to have clashed with conservative Maoists as well as Liu supporters in Tsinshai Province, Tientsin and Peking suburbs.

Flower Talk

By SUZIE BUTLER
MOTHER'S DAY AND THE CARNATION

For hundreds of years flowers have been known to have a language of their own. . . certain flowers say certain things. . . each unique in the message they bear.

The red carnation has long been accepted as the flower to say: "We admire you." The pink carnation is said to say, "we admire you, tenderly."

If it is no wonder, then, the carnation has become the nationally accepted flower to represent "Mother's Day". What better means could we use to express our love to a person as noble as our mothers.

A lovely floral gift for your mother in just as close as your telephone. Call PR 7-2361. We will see that they are delivered to her door.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HALCOMB, Kan. (AP) — "I am skating on some very thin ice," said pipe-smoking Richard Brooks as he propped up his feet on the desk of Herbert Clutter.

The film maker was taking a noontime breather from the filming of "In Cold Blood" in the Kansas ranch house where Clutter and his wife and two children were murdered in 1959. It was a brief period of repose for the tense, sometimes explosive Brooks.

He spoke of his problems in filming the Truman Capote book about the real-life murders:

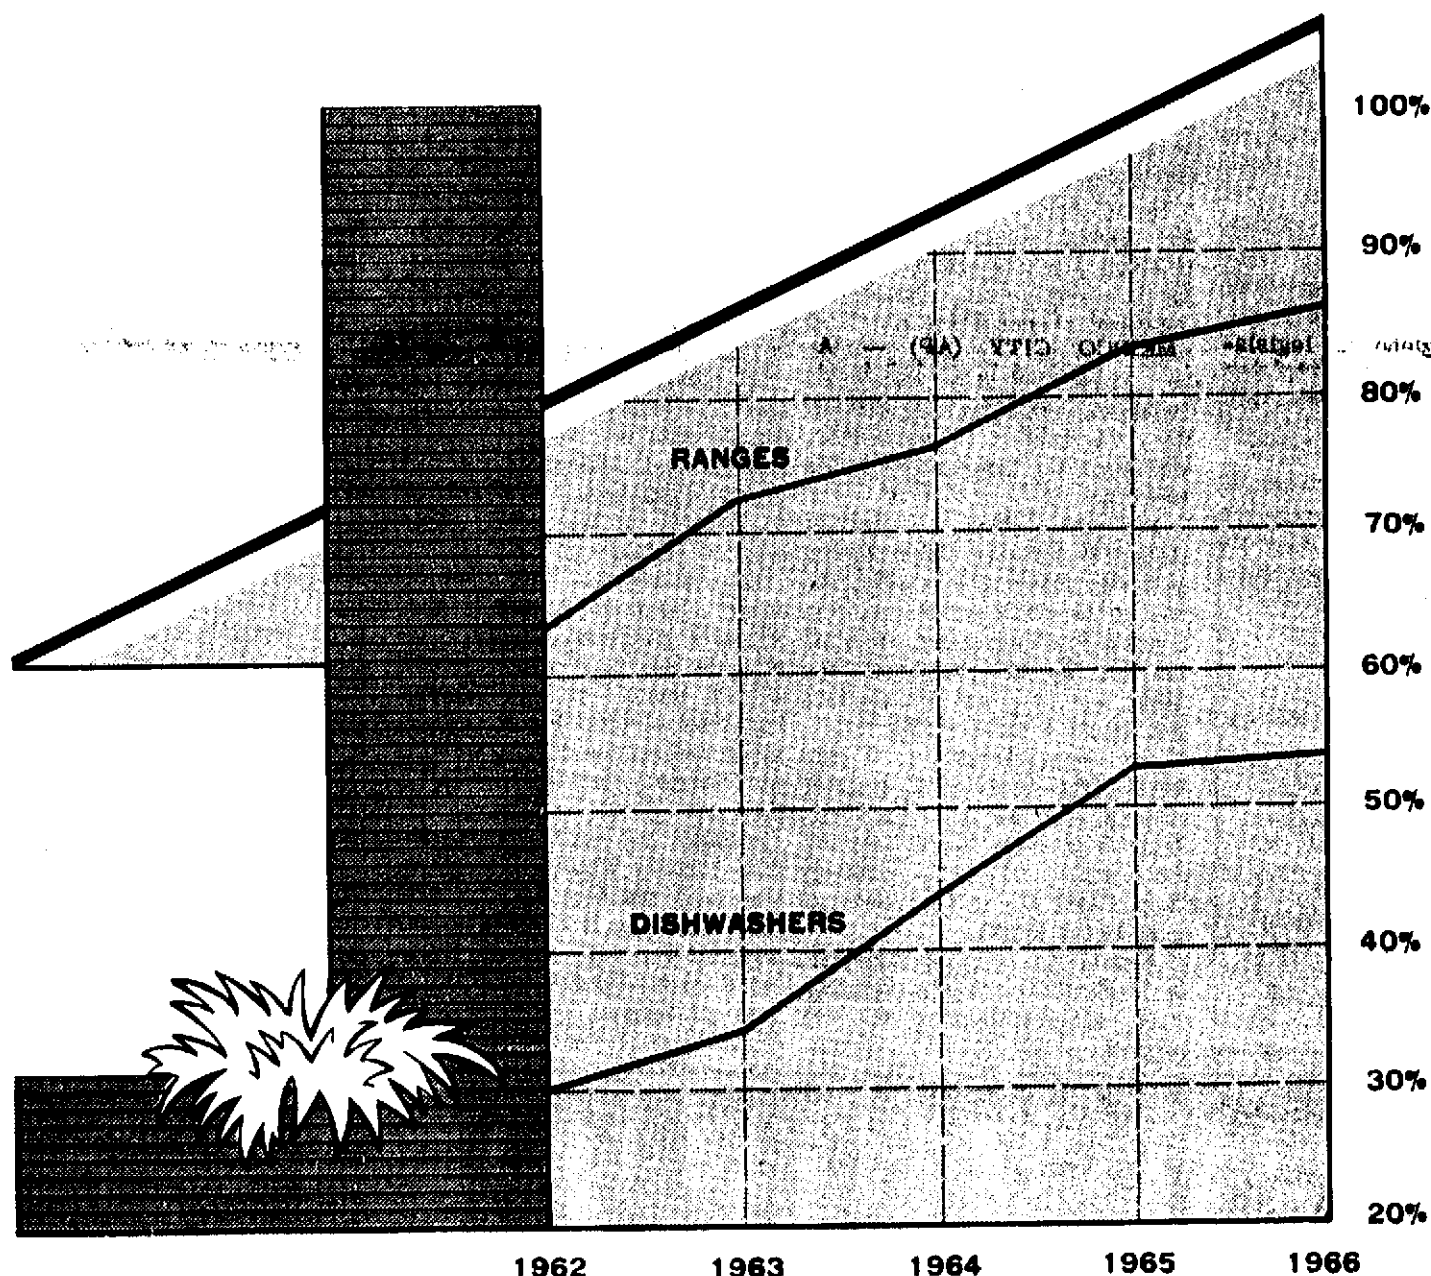

"If I try to please Capote, I may offend some of the people here in Kansas. If I try to please them, then I might upset Capote. So the only thing I can do is to please myself."

As a result, he has shown the script to no one, and he does out pages to the actors day by day. He has not even written a finish to the screen play — "I haven't had time; but I do have a fair notion of what will happen."

Brooks admitted that he had felt an undercurrent of opposition among Kansans toward the filming of "In Cold Blood" here. "But I think that has largely been overcome by assuring them we are not wild characters from Hollywood," he remarked.

Orioles Again Lose to Detroit

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Hank Bauer's getting tired of being cuffed around by the Detroit Tigers, but his sluggers keep turning the other cheek.

The Tigers capitalized on Baltimore blunders Sunday and blanked Bauer's Orioles 4-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Joe Sparma, completing a three-game sweep over the slugish world champions.

The victory was Detroit's sixth in seven games against the Orioles, who have fallen into an eighth-place tie in the early American League race after scoring only one run in the three-game set against the Tigers.

"We're pressing too much... swinging at pitches we should be taking and taking pitches we should be swinging at," Manager Bauer said after watching his club stumble to its fourth straight setback.

"Beating the Orioles six out of seven is bound to give us a lift," said Tiger Pilot Mayo Smith. "Our guys still think Baltimore is the club to beat."

Sparma scattered three singles on the way to his second shutout of the young season and third victory without a loss.

The Tigers pulled out of reach by scoring three unearned runs in the fifth inning without hitting a ball out of the infield. Pitcher Dave McNally's two-base throwing error opened the gates and five walks, a wild pitch and a bunt single by Don Wert completed the wild rally.

The Tigers' fourth victory in a row moved them into the league lead, one half game ahead of the Chicago White Sox, whose game at Cleveland was rained out.

Elsewhere, California shut out Washington 5-0 on Jim McGlothlin's two-hitter. Boston checked Minnesota 9-6, and Kansas City divided a doubleheader with New York, trimming the Yankees 4-1 before bowing 8-3.

The Chicago Cubs edged St. Louis.

Arkansan Bats Cubs Over Cards

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
With one batted ball, St. Louis' Curt Flood gained a record, but the Cardinals lost the game.

The ball, hit by Don Kessinger in the ninth inning, skidded off Flood's glove in center field and drove in Clarence Jones with the run that gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 victory Sunday.

The play, however, was ruled a single for Kessinger, and center fielder Flood had his 206th consecutive game without an error, a National League record.

"I'll probably never forget that play," said Flood, who hasn't made an error since he fumbled Harvey Kuenn's single Sept. 2, 1965, also against the Cubs at Wrigley field.

"It would have been a heck of a catch had I been able to make it. Sure, it's good having the record, but it would have been much better having a victory to go along with it."

Bob Gibson struck out the first two Cubs in the inning with the game tied 4-4, but Jones batted for rookie pitcher Rich Nye and doubled. Kessinger, not considered a long ball hitter, then drove a liner over Flood's head in center.

The 5-foot-9 speedster turned, raced back and leaped in the air, but the ball struck his glove and fell away as Jones scored the winning run.

The 29-year-old Flood didn't grab it, but he did snare the record. Tony Gonzalez of Philadelphia held the old mark of 205 consecutive errorless games, compiled between 1961 and 1963.

Don Demeter holds the major league mark of 266, set with Philadelphia and Detroit from 1962 to 1965. Demeter, however, had 449 chances—putouts and assists—in his streak. Flood already has 06.

He would prefer, however, to be in the only other game played in the National League, Atlanta defeated Cincinnati 5-3. Rain inundated Houston at New York, Los Angeles at Philadelphia and San Francisco at Pittsburgh.

In the American League, Detroit blanked Baltimore 4-0, California shut out Washington 5-4, Boston beat Minnesota 9-6 and Kansas City halted New York 4-1 before bowing 8-3. Rain stopped Chicago at Cleveland.

The Cardinals had tied the game only minutes before Kessinger's single when Mike Shannon led off the top of the ninth slide as well as Minnesota's four-game winning string.

Jim Nash struck out 10 Yankees in the Athletics' first-game victory, but needed relief help from Jack Aker in the seventh. An error by John Kennedy helped the A's to two unearned runs in the fourth.

New York bounced back with a 14-hit attack in the nightcap, Joe Pepitone leading the way with three singles and a double.

RE-WORKING THE CLAY

Beard Is Winner of Houston Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Beard, the Louisville, Ky., slugger of the fairways, can only say that what he has done on the pro golf tour this year is beyond "my wildest expectations." Twice, he has won tournaments by beating Arnold Palmer with birds on the last hole.

Beard, 28 just a week ago, dropped an 18-footer for a bird Sunday to best Palmer, golf's all-time money winner, by one stroke to win the $115,000 Champions International Golf Classic.

Three weeks ago, he did the same thing—sink a last-ditch birdie—to beat Palmer in the prestigious Tourna ment of Champions. He picked up $23,000 here and $20,000 in Las Vegas.

Winning second, Palmer banked $13,800 for a total of $87,073 on the 1967 tour. Masters champ Cary Brewer, No. 2 on the list, finished out of the money, at 296. Doug Sanders, third, withdrew the last day because of a cold.

Beard has won a total of $54,987 in 1967. Last year, he won $66,041.

He began the day three strokes behind Palmer, who had held the lead for the two previous days. U. S. Open champion Billy Casper was second, two strokes off Palmer's pace, but shot himself out of contention by hitting water on No. 12 and 14, for double bogies.

Beard ended with a four-round total of 274, ten under par, firing a 67 on the heavily wooded 7,118-yard Cypress Creek course the last day. Palmer managed only an even-par 71 for 275, alone in second place.

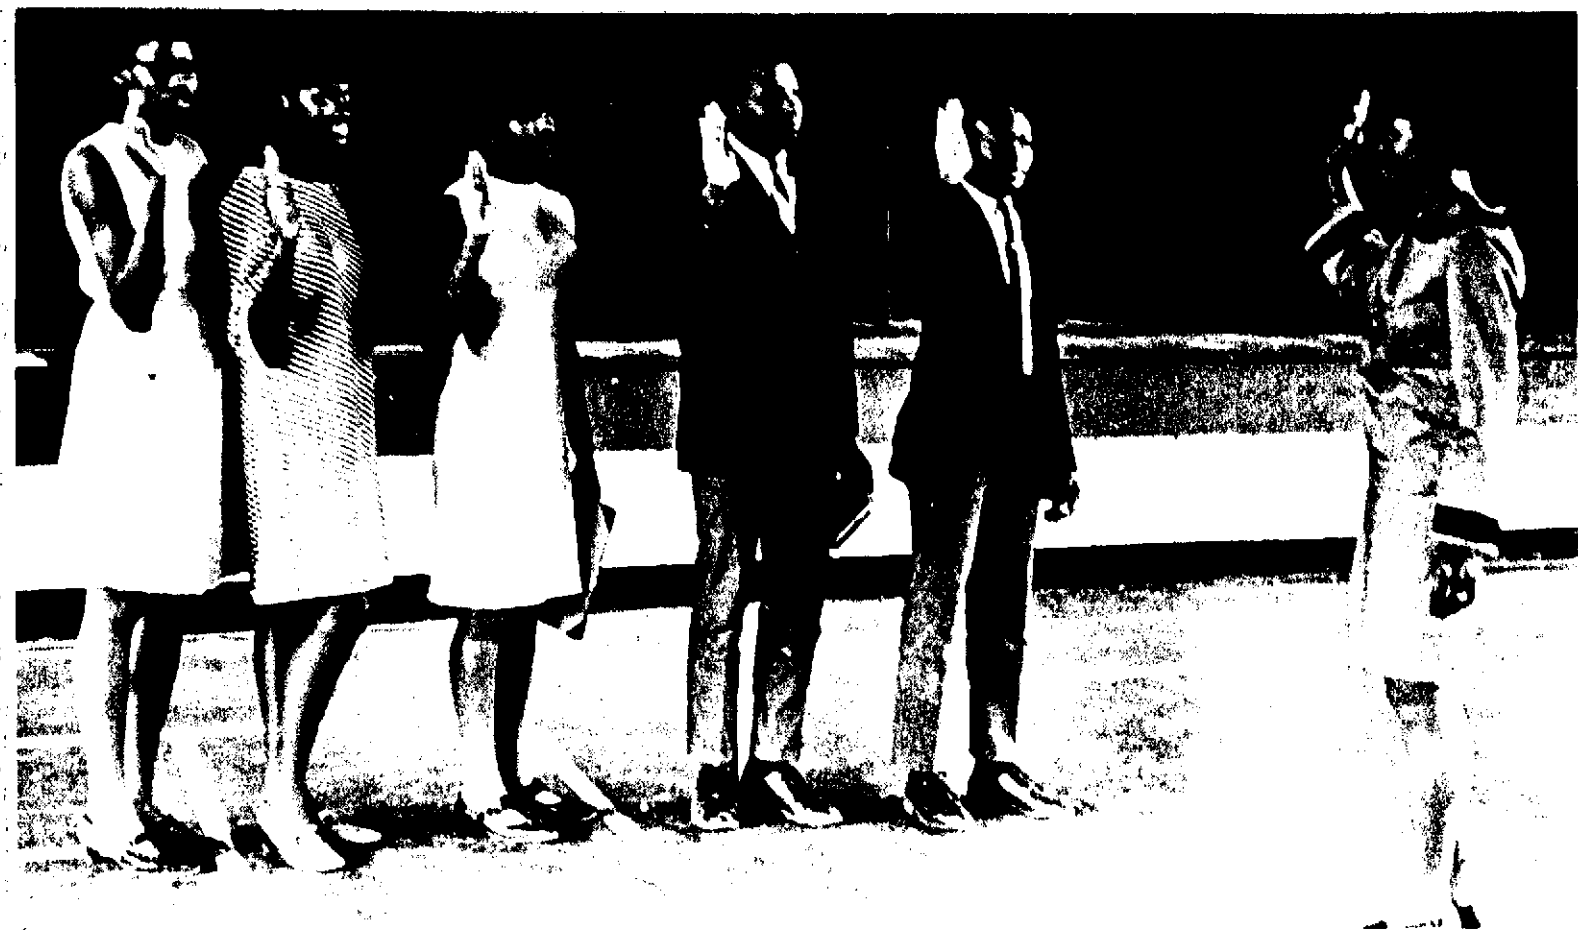

Ben Hogan, running up his best score since winning the 1959 Colonial Invitational in Fort Worth, Tex., trudged the long course at age 54 in humid, 88-degree weather with a fourth-round 68. He closed at 278, tying Charles Coody for third.

Julius Boros matched the course record of six-under 65 set by Casper the day before, locking with young South African Harold Henning at 279.

Council Installs Officers

The former officers present the symbolic articles of their offices. The Presidents shake hands.

Oath of office administered to new officers by former President Maxwell.

Last week a ceremony took place in Harris Gymnasium for the purpose of installing officers-elect of Yenger Student Council 1967-68. The program was opened by the advance of colors by the newly organized Tiger Patrol, the student police force. The Alma Mater was sung by the audience and surge of school patriotism was felt throughout the assembly.

After an evening meditation was read by President Student Council, Patricia Maxwell, the installation ceremonies were begun. Floyd Young, Jr., Counselor and sponsor, gave a stirring introductory speech concerning the purpose and plan of the student council.

Harriet Hickles presented the Bank, symbolic of the Treasurer, to Treasurer-elect Betty Phillips; Neva Tate presented the Pen, representing the office of Ass't Secretary to Margaret Mauldin; Outgoing Secretary Mary Martin presented the Student Council Minutes to Evelyn Walker, Secretary-elect; Harold Phillips presented the Plans of the 1967-68 Student Council to Vice - President - Elect Arthur Maxwell.

The outgoing President Patricia Maxwell gave her farewell address to the student body, shook hands with President - elect Charles Martin and stepped from the platform. Charles Martin, in his inaugural address, gave his plans, objectives and proposed projects for his year 1967-68 serving as President.

The Oath of office was administered by former President Maxwell. The former officers then left the stage and the new officers received tremendous applause.

Unlike preceding years, the new officers assumed responsibilities of their offices immediately after the inauguration.

Stamps finished the meet with 72 1/2 points. Holly Grove had 24, Lewisville 13, Hazen 13, Welner 10 1/2, Bradley 10 and Harding Academy 10. None of the other 25 teams scored in double figures.

Scot Sets New Course Record

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Jackie Stewart of Scotland has set an unofficial course record while turning in the best time in a practice whirl for Sunday's Monaco Grand Prix for formula one cars. Stewart, who won last year, drove his 2-liter BRM over the twisting 1.95-mile course in 1 minute, 29.5 seconds for an average speed of 78.60 miles per hour.

Proud Clarion Winner of Big Derby

By EJ SCHUYLER JR. LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Proud Clarion did his homework so well that just a fraction more than two minutes after the Kentucky Derby started, school was out for 13 other top 3-year-olds.

"He's kind of delicate, nervous," trainer Loyd (Boo) Gentry said Sunday morning in the Churchill Downs stable area while discussing John Galtbreath's Derby Dan Farm-owned winner of Saturday's 93rd running of the Derby.

But Boo's father once told him how to calm a temperamental thoroughbred, and Boo remembered. He schooled him in the paddock.

This means taking a horse to the paddock, getting him ready as if he were going to race and then letting him listen to the crowd noise before returning him to the stable.

The noise didn't bother Proud Clarion Saturday, and his competition didn't either.

The 30-1 shot stormed over the 1 1/4 miles in 2:00 3-5, finishing a length in front of Barbs Delight with 8-5 favorite Damascus another 1 1/4 lengths back.

Only two colts, Northern Dancer in 2 minutes flat in 1964, and Decidedly in 2:00 2-5 in 1962, have run the Derby faster, and only two have rewarded their backers better than Proud Clarion, who brought a mutual win payoff of $62.20. Donerail won at $184.90 in 1913 and Calhoun at $72.40 in 1949.

Proud Clarion's victory caused the only commotion of note on a rainy day at the Downs as demonstrations by advocates of an open-housing ordinance failed to materialize.

Some 2,500 National Guardsmen, city, Jefferson County and state police were on hand to insure a smooth running.

And it couldn't have been smoother as far as Proud Clarion's schoolmaster was concerned.

"Wednesday and Thursday we schooled him in the paddock with blinkers and saddle and the whole shooting match," said Gentry, 42, who hails from Covington, Ky.

"The first time I had him over there he almost shook apart. I could hear his teeth rattle."

"But Thursday he settled down some, and he thought it was dry run when he went over there yesterday," Gentry said with a smile.

Something else also happened to Proud Clarion in the paddock 15 minutes before the race. For the first time he came face to face with Robert Nelson Ussery, 32, the man who was to ride him into a permanent place in racing lore.

Ussery didn't get the mount until 48 hours before the race and then he had to get released from a riding assignment at another track.

He almost didn't have a mount to get—Proud Clarion's workout in the mud Tuesday so disappointed Gentry that the trainer, suffering from hepatitis and scheduled for a medical checkup in New York Tuesday — talked of withholding him from the Derby.

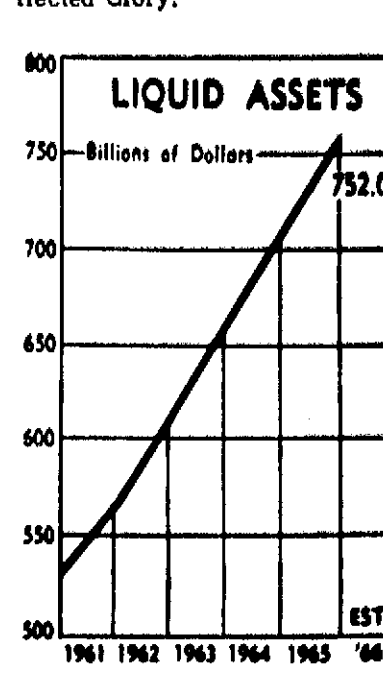

But despite the rain Saturday, the track remained fast long enough for Proud Clarion to charge into the middle of the muddled 3-year-old picture.

The Derby outcome caused some observers to wonder just how good this year's 3-year-old crop is. Proud Clarion, who Gentry said could have been purchased for $50,000 less than two months ago, was a non-winner at two years old and never had won a stakes before Saturday.

The 3-year-old puzzle could start failing in place at Pimlico May 20. That's when Proud Clarion, Damascus and some of the other Kentucky Derby colts will hook up with some who passed up the Derby in the $150,000-added Preakness.

The latter group included once-beaten Dr. Fager; Tumiga, unbeaten in six career starts, including Saturday's Florida Handicap at Aqueduct; Florida Derby winner in Reality, and possibly Flamingo winner Re-flected Glory.

American consumers en masse are richer than ever before. Total liquid assets held by consumers climbed to $752 billion by the end of 1966, a gain of $40 billion during the year.

Three Going to Festival of Champs

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Milers Don Hunt of Mississippi State University, Joe Boyle of Harding and Bob Giersberg of Arkansas State University have accepted invitations to participate in the Festival of Champions to be held here June 3 at Kays Stadium.

Hunt, a Shady Grove, Miss., native whose 4:07.8 is the best time clocked in the Southeast Conference this year, has lost only one race, and that was to Giersberg in a dual meet between their schools.

Boyle's best time is 4:08.2. The Sag Harbor, N. Y., native transferred to Harding from Phoenix, Ariz., Junior College.

The Jonesboro Exchange Club is sponsoring the meet, which will bring together the five best mid-south track and field men in each of 18 events. Contestants will vie for individual championships, and no points will be kept on a team basis.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

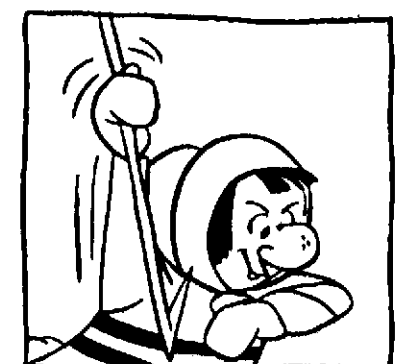

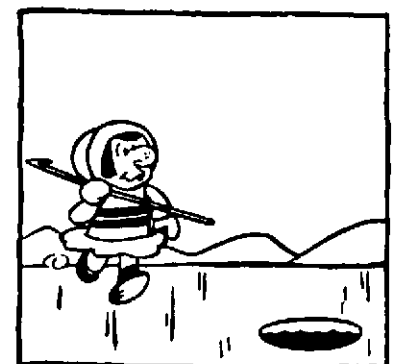

The Black Sea is a large inland body of water bounded by the countries of Turkey, Romania, Bulgaria and the Soviet Union. It is about 330 miles wide and 630 miles long, says The World Almanac. While the surface water is relatively fresh, below 650 feet it becomes stagnant and contains large quantities of hydrogen sulfide but virtually no deep-sea life.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Early Distillers

Both George Washington and Thomas Jefferson owned distilleries, and the industry received its greatest encouragement during Washington's administration because of the need of the new federal government for revenues, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Some New Leukemia Drugs
Are Showing Good Promise

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A grandmother writes that her 4 1/2-year-old grandson has leukemia. The diagnosis was made only after several examinations of his bone marrow for abnormal cells. The grandmother wants to know what chance the child has for life. This depends on what type of leukemia he has. Many new treatments for this disease are being used. Some of them show great promise but because they are still experimental it may be necessary to take the boy to a research center where such treatments are being studied. For more detailed information on where to take him she can write to the Leukemia Society, 405 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

Q—My 18-month-old daughter shakes her crib and bangs her head against its sides. Could she harm herself this way? What causes this?

A—This is a common type of behavior in children between the ages of one and three. Although it may drive the mother nearly crazy there are no reports of concussion or brain damage resulting from this pastime. The cause may be a need for rhythmic activity. After all, an 18-month-old baby can't dance. Another possible cause is a need to get some of the pent-up feeling out of her system. In any case no treatment is necessary and she will outgrow the habit in a few more months.

Q—Is it safe for a 7-year-old girl to work on a trampoline or to learn acrobatic dancing? Will it have any bad effect later in life?

A—All such healthful activities should be carefully supervised by a person who is well-versed in the correct methods of performance and the hazards to be avoided—and a trampoline is definitely hazardous to the inexperienced. Under such restrictions only good results now and in the long run are to be expected.

Q—My granddaughter's son was born with one eye and sometimes both eyes turning in. Can anything other than an operation be done for this? What age is best for operating on his eyes?

A—Since it takes a baby about six months to master binocular vision the best treatment in these early months is watchful waiting. An eye doctor can tell at 6 months whether the child is cross-

Oswald: "How about some hands that helped your team win this year's Vanderbilt Cup? Incidentally, you're getting old. Three of your five teammates were younger than you."

Jim: "After we beat you in the quarter finals it was easy going the rest of the way. That is if there is any such thing as easy going in a knockout match."

Oswald: "What is the principal feature of your team's bidding?"

Jim: "We like to get in the bidding early and often. We get into far less trouble that way than if we pass first and back in later. All of our contracts aren't guaranteed but even the best sometimes go wrong on defense. For instance, here is a game contract made by Ron von der Porten of San Francisco."

Oswald: "Most players would pass with his hand and it is just as well that Lew Mathe sitting North raised to four spades. They play limit raises and Ron would not have rebid over a raise to three."

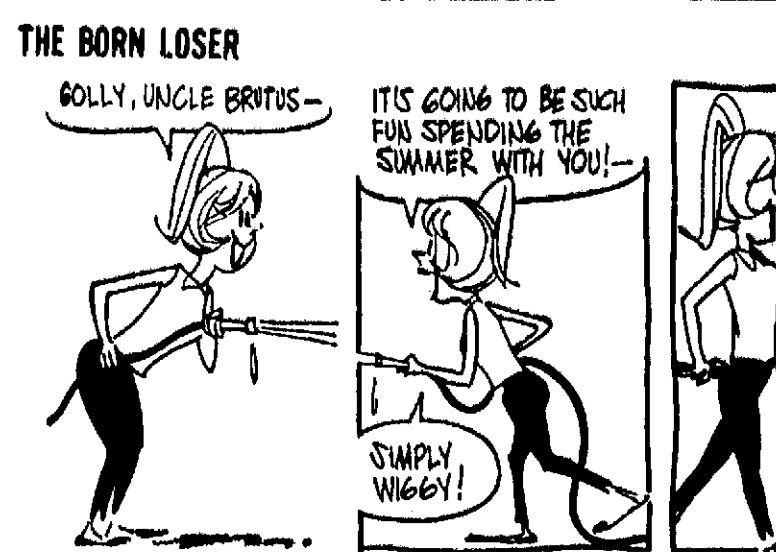

Jim: "There was nothing to the play. West opened the ace of hearts and continued. Ron ruffed in dummy and led a diamond. East rose with the ace and played a club. Ron won in dummy, ruffed a diamond high, led a trump to dummy's eight, ruffed another diamond high, drew trumps with one more lead and was able to discard his last three clubs on the good diamonds and wind up with an overtrick since dummy's last trump was there to take care of his last heart."

Oswald: "What happened at the other table?"

Jim: "South passed his hand. East opened on fourth seat. South did overall with a spade. West bid two hearts and North bid two spades to end the bidding."

"THAT'S THE BREAKS, KID" IS WRONG ATTITUDE

Dear Helen: Our son's bike was stolen from the bike rack at school. When we reported it the incident was more or less shrugged off. We were told that a lot of bikes disappear because the rack is near the street and when the older high school kids walk by they pick one off to ride home on, then abandon it somewhere, or maybe sell it for a few dollars.

And, besides, "Don't you have insurance — so what are you worrying about?"

Well, I AM worrying, not so much at the loss of a bicycle but what this attitude is teaching our son. If authorities say, "That's the breaks, kid," and indicate stealing is good clean fun, how can we convince him that it isn't right for HIM to pick off any bike he finds lying around?
Is Homeowners Insurance turning us into a nation of shruggers? — MRS. M.

Dear Mrs. M.: I hope not! When those in authority shrug bicycle-stealing off as a "popular outdoor sport," the final authority — parents — must work twice as hard demonstrating it is a crime. I'm sure you will, but many don't — and that's why our daughter's bike disappeared from our front yard not long ago. It's why almost every family I know can tell of at least one home theft. . . And why insurance rates go up.

I wish there was a better answer than sturdy locks. It can only come when ALL parents show by their actions (even unto income tax) that honesty is the only decent way to travel. — H.

Dear Helen: About those short skirts, may I quote the Farmers Almanac which says, "It's not the initial length, it's the up-creeper!" And would someone please, please tell me how a gal can get out of the back seat of a car these days and remain a lady? — FRANTICALLY TUGGING

Dear Tugging: Outside of a chauffeur who hops out and unfurls a blanket between her and the leg-watchers — I wouldn't know. — H.

Dear Helen: Six months ago our present landlords assured us that our having two small boys wouldn't matter — they loved children. Ever since we moved in to the apartment above them, it's been nothing but doorknob ringing to quiet the kids down. They've decreed that our two-year-old can't wear shoes in the house, or pull toys across the floor. If the baby even whimpers, they're on our necks. He isn't allowed to use a walker. To bounce a ball would be the greatest crime.

Now they've also started on me. I can't vacuum the rug except at certain hours, or wash clothes after 12-noon. We tiptoe around up here, and I've shushed the boys so much they are miserable . . . but they can't even cry!

Dear Mother: Landlords this picky would probably not consider changing apartments with you, but you might suggest it as a last resort before you look for a ground-floor dwelling elsewhere. If these rigid rules continue, you can't really afford NOT to move! — H.

Dear Helen: The letter from "FIGHTER" could easily have been signed by me. His have been my sentiments ever since I learned I had cancer. Between my doctors and me, we're trying to make those darned tumors dormant for as long as we can. If we succeed for a few years, that's fine. If we don't, well, I, too, have had a good life.

Meanwhile, I'm going to take a short trip to Mexico, something I've always wanted to do. I pursue my various hobbies, have numerous friends, and I've discovered the word "cancer" has lost its terror. — ANOTHER FIGHTER.

Priests Meet More Challenge Now

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Joseph Cardinal Ritter, looking back over 50 years as a priest, said Sunday the priest of today faces greater challenges than when he entered the ministry. Cardinal Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, was interviewed on television as he celebrated his golden jubilee.

Eisenhower Reportedly Resting Well

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, 76 — a rather frequent but notably snap-back type of hospital patient — is said to be resting comfortably with what appears to be a gastrointestinal ailment.
The five-star general, hospitalized for five other major illnesses including two heart attacks and two major surgical operations since 1955, entered Walter Reed Army Hospital about midnight Saturday after an ambulance ride from his home in Gettysburg, Pa.

The provisional diagnosis is acute gastroenteritis, an acute inflammation of the lining of the stomach and the small intestine. All evidence presently available from the hospital indicates doctors there do not look upon the case as a serious, life-threatening one, at least at present.
A hospital spokesman said no further medical bulletins were planned until late this morning.

Eisenhower's admission followed what a hospital spokesman called "an episode of nausea and vomiting, with abdominal cramps" suffered late Saturday evening at his farm home.
Eisenhower and his wife Mamie had returned to the farm last Thursday from Palm Desert, Calif., where they have been spending their winters. The spokesman said the progress of Eisenhower's discomfort at home "was such that, after consultation with doctors at Walter Reed General Hospital,

It was decided to proceed to the hospital for medical observation."
"The provisional diagnosis is acute gastroenteritis," said the spokesman in giving out the news shortly after noon Sunday. "Therapeutic measures are being carried out," he added. No details were given immediately on the treatment being employed.
Eisenhower was in Walter Reed last December for gall bladder surgery. Even before he underwent the surgery he was talking about playing golf as soon as possible. He said recently that while in Palm Desert this year, he managed up to about 12 holes, although he had not yet tried a full 18.

Some private doctors not associated with Eisenhower's case suggested he might now be the victim of something familiar to thousands of Americans year after year — intestinal flu caused by a still- unidentified virus.
"There's a lot of it going around," one doctor told a reporter.
At about three years of age, the feathers of the bald eagle become shining white, giving its head the bald appearance.

Power of Press? Minus Protection It Quickly Dies

The man in the street speaking glibly of "the power of the press" doesn't know how ridiculous he sounds to the people actually of the press, who know the truth: In troubled times the press is the very first of our vaunted democratic institutions to go down.

This week-end New York City and the nation were jolted by the death of the World Journal Tribune, a consolidation that lasted but 236 days and now has swept three of the most famous names of American journalism into oblivion.

Only two generations ago New York City had 20 daily papers. Today there are but three: The Times and tabloid Daily News in the morning, and the tabloid Post alone in the evening.

Some reduction was economically due — but not the near extinction we have seen in New York. Nor the deadly march that parallels it in other big American cities. Memphis has but one publishing plant, issuing morning and evening editions under common ownership. St. Louis has but one publishing plant, issuing its own Post-Dispatch in the evening field and printing the competing morning Globe-Democrat under contract.

What's behind this grim story? The specific trouble in New York City was that population growth and buying power had shifted to Long Island and the suburbs, each with its own community newspaper. Some of these New York opponents weren't trivial. One Long Island daily had more circulation and advertising revenue than the average Manhattan journal.

Nevertheless the printers' organization, the International Typographical Union, chose to ignore the economic facts of life and served the Manhattan dailies with contract demands that most of them couldn't live with. And when you can't make money with a business you close it down.

The World-Journal-Tribune lost $700,000 a month for the better part of year, then quit. Its closing cost 2,800 employees their jobs, including 700 printers.

The economic squeeze alone doesn't explain the New York story. For that you have to go to the halls of Congress, where politicians have cannibalized the economic security of the press and other industries by enacting crippling labor legislation for the sake of votes.

Of the politicians this is to be expected. That's why our Constitution set up the safeguard of a third division of Government—the Courts. They specifically are charged with safeguarding freedom of speech and press in this country, and while they generally have supported free speech I can't say as much for their efforts in behalf of the press—without which the privilege of free speech would be pretty futile.

If this newspaper be hostile toward Government you can put it down to an informed and alert editor.

If you have an enemy the best defense is to hit him first, . . . where it hurts . . . in elections. The courts, as you will discover when you've been around as long as I have, don't belong to the people—they belong to the Crown. But if you beat enough politicians in the elections you'll eventually change the thinking of the Courts also.

And to that end I have dedicated this newspaper, evidenced by the original line over our masthead: The tragedy of Man; starts off with a Country—and winds up with a Government!

Bombs Kept From Hanoi Months in Effort to Open Peace Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — For more than four months, from mid-December to late April, President Johnson held U. S. bombers away from the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi in an effort to find out whether President Ho Chi Minh would open secret peace talks or take steps to scale down the war.

North Vietnam was informed of what Johnson was doing and was invited to respond. The story of what happened, beginning last November with a Polish maneuver, now can be told as it is known in official Washington. It has been pieced together in a weeks-long check of various sources. It can be told now because the episode is closed, although officials believe some of the work done may contribute eventually to peace in Vietnam.

Through Polish and other diplomatic channels word was sent to Hanoi last December that if Hanoi would take some parallel step to de-escalate the fighting, the United States would be prepared to make other moves. Hanoi, campaigning to halt all bombing of North Vietnam, never accepted the offer.

The gambit thus failed and two weeks ago U. S. bombers struck again inside the previously forbidden Hanoi circle — 10 nautical miles from the center of the city.

The last previous time the bombs exploded so close to Hanoi's center, their blows fell in the midst of a peace probe initiated by Poland. Polish diplomats claimed that that bombing, Dec. 13-14, wrecked one of the most hopeful approaches to peace in the recent history of the war. U. S. officials refute the claim, but can't be sure.

Out of that failure, however, arose the four-month Hanoi bomb limitation.

Events began with Janusz Lewandowski, a Polish diplomat on the International Control Commission in Vietnam.

Late last November Lewandowski went to Hanoi and spent 10 days talking with diplomats and North Vietnamese officials. When he returned to Saigon about Dec. 1, he met secretly with U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the Italian Embassy.

Lewandowski told Lodge he believed North Vietnam was prepared to open secret exploratory discussions with the United States. He did not interpose the condition that the United States would have to call off unconditionally the bombing of the North.

The Polish diplomat gave Lodge a 10-point statement of topics and principles for the proposed talks.

Foster, Jap Minister Talk

TOKYO (AP) — William C. Foster, U. S. delegate to the disarmament talks in Geneva, exchanged views today with Japanese Foreign Minister Takeo Miki on the proposed treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

Foster told Miki about the U. S.-Soviet negotiations on the treaty and Miki explained Japan's position, informed sources said.

Rail Strike Underway in New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand

AP — A national rail strike started at midnight but had little effect on thousands of commuters this morning.

Motorists collected commuters from suburban railway stations and ferried them into the city. A number took to bicycles. The strike stopped all trains, railway buses and the ferries between New Zealand's two main islands.

The union is demanding payment of an additional seven cents an hour for certain types of skilled labor.

Prison Full of Graft, Corruption

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — There is no type of graft or corruption that doesn't exist in the Arkansas penitentiary, Asst. State Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton said Saturday.

Murton told the Arkansas Association of Women Lawyers in a meeting here that the situation existed because convicts control the prison. He said this was the only way the prison could be run, however, because of the lack of personnel.

Murton, who is in charge of Tucker Prison Farm, said that a young prisoner could expect to be sexually assaulted on his first night at Tucker if he couldn't pay for protection.

A youth coming into the prison is safer in death row than in the open barracks, Murton said, because "people on death row are a better class of inmate. They're not the pervert, the deviate, the crudhead."

The only way for a prisoner to get a position of importance is to pay the yard man, he said, and some of the better jobs cost up to $1,000.

Publisher Admits He Created CIA Students Subsidy Program

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas W. Braden, a newspaper publisher and former Central Intelligence Agency official, says he created the CIA program subsidizing student, labor and cultural groups abroad — including $50,000 of CIA money spent by the United Auto Workers Union to combat communism.

Braden told the Los Angeles Times Sunday, in connection with an article he has written for the May 20 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, that he personally gave the money to UAW President Walter Reuther to influence West German labor unions.

Reuther replied that on one occasion the UAW had "agreed reluctantly" to use the funds for European trade unions "to intensify their educational and organization programs." Subse-

Truman Marks 83rd Birthday

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman marks his 83rd birthday anniversary today without fanfare.

Truman's close friends who have sponsored an annual luncheon on his birthday for many years will observe the event despite the fact the former president, to conserve his strength, declined to occupy the guest chair.

It won't be the same, but Truman's friends share in his desire to "take care of his health first." He hasn't been at his office in the Truman Library since last July 30 and he has made virtually no public appearances in the last year. Though he talks a good deal about things to be taken up again, the doctors have set no time on his return to office routine.

Truman says he feels well and observed, "I should. The boss (Mrs. Truman) feeds me well, and I do nothing but eat, sleep and read."

Outlook for Trade Plan Is Dismal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects for congressional action this year on President Johnson's proposal to expand East-West trade are dismal, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today.

Indicating he had discussed the matter with the White House, Mansfield said in an interview he thinks President Johnson is willing to have his proposal explored in hearings this session and await possible later action on it.

Johnson has said his East-West trade proposals are "carefully designed to be used only when it is clear that our interests are served."

His program would give the same tariff treatment on non-strategic goods to the Soviet Union and Eastern European nations as are granted to others if the action would further U.S. interests.

Many Republicans and some Democrats have argued it makes little sense to trade with the Soviets when they are stepping up shipment of war material to North Vietnam. For this reason, Mansfield said the outlook for action "looks dismal."

"There is a stop, look and listen attitude on the part of the administration and Congress on this and other matters," Mansfield said in explaining delay in passage of major legislation.

"We are taking a little more time than usual to take a careful look at all major legislation. The committees are doing an excellent job and we should be getting our teeth into it soon."

Rider Not a User of Car, Court Rules

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court held today that a person riding in a car cannot be used as a "user" of the automobile in an accident.

The court unanimously rejected the appeal of Mrs. Robert Lyn Dunlap from circuit court at Little Rock in which she asked for damages against Dan Smith.

Smith was a passenger in a car driven by Glenn Gouge Jr., a teen-ager, that collided with a car driven by Mrs. Dunlap's husband Jan. 29, 1961.

The Dunlups received a $19,959 judgment from Gouge for injuries to their infant child. They sued Smith under the "use" of a non-owned automobile.

Marine Camp Attacked by 1,000

SAIGON (AP) — Some 1,200 North Vietnamese hammered at a U.S. Marine camp for three hours today before pulling back, and leaving 179 Communist dead strewn over a battle-scarred hillside.

Charging beneath a mortar barrage and behind smoking flamethrowers, the men of the North Vietnamese 324B Division smashed into a perimeter defended by U.S. Marines, small detachments of U.S. Navy Seabees, Army Special Forces men and South Vietnamese militia-men.

Unofficial reports from the battlefield said 35 Marines were killed and 89 wounded. The South Vietnamese lost 14 dead and 16 wounded while the Special Forces and the Seabees each had five wounded.

The attack on the new camp near Con Thien, two miles below the demilitarized zone, began with a 200-round mortar barrage at 3 a.m. Coordinated with it were mortar attacks on three other Marine positions below the border zone which wounded at least eight marines.

Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, commander of the 75,000 Marines in Vietnam, had a narrow escape at Con Thien. An enemy 60mm mortar round exploded 15 feet from him as he was inspecting the field after the battle. Walt was not hurt, but his operations officer, Col. James Barrett, got a jaw injury from a shell fragment, and Walt's aide, Capt. Bill Lee of Arcadia, Calif., suffered a concussion.

The attacking North Vietnamese charged under cover of their mortars and flamethrowers to lay bamboo poles, filled with dynamite across the camp's barbed-wire defenses and blow open attack paths.

Smashing through these breaches, the Reds got inside the perimeter at two points, hurling grenades and satchel charges.

The hill at first was held by a company of about 200 Marines, with a small U. S. Navy Seabee detachment, a team of U. S. Special Forces soldiers and a force of South Vietnamese militiamen. As the fight continued, Marine reinforcements charged up.

68 Cars at DeQueen Derailed

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — A diesel and 68 cars of a 159-car Kansas City Southern freight train derailed Saturday near Neal Springs, five miles south of here, ripping up track and "stacking up like cordwood," according to a railroad spokesman.

The spokesman said cars were stacked two and three deep in the woods along either side of a 100-yard section of track, but that most were empty. The train's six Shreveport, La., crewmen escaped without injury.

One car was loaded with liquid chlorine, he said, but safety precautions eliminated any danger.

A driving rain hampered efforts to clear the track, but four bulldozers and two wreckers were expected to clear away the pile-up within 48 hours from the derailment, which occurred about 5 a.m.

The spokesman said 32 cars of the train, No. 42, bound for Kansas City out of Shreveport, were dragged back to Ashdown, Ark., while 57 cars ahead of the derailment continued on. An auxiliary diesel 50 cars from the rear of the train turned crosswise on the track but did not overturn.

There was no immediate explanation for the derailment.
